Bible Bowl

Kids are encouraged to participate in this Bible-based challenge. Each year we will choose a book of the Bible that corresponds with our theme and we will have two separate games with Bible questions. Kids will be broken up into teams so as not to make this an individual activity and to give each child a greater opportunity to participate freely without as much pressure. Questions will range in difficulty and type. This is intended to be a camp-wide activity so everybody is expected to be present for the Bible Bowl even if not participating. If you have any children who wish to participate, please specify in your registration.

Memory Verse Master

We want to encourage all students to learn memory verses that will be helpful to them throughout their lives, and this year we will recognize students who memorize Bible verses. We have posted a list of verses from which to choose prior to Roundup. At least one-half of a student's memory verses MUST come from this list, but if they wish, parents may select other verses for the second half based upon their current study. To count for credit, students must say at least five verses at one time for credit. Recognition will be awarded in increments of ten. Parents should report which verses a child has learned upon arrival at Roundup. We hope that this format will allow youth to focus on local Bible Bowls and their personal Bible studies, while still providing a forum for Bible focus and discussion at Roundup. We encourage all children to participate. If your child has any special needs that we need to be aware of, please let us know during registration.

Moms' Shootout

This will be an opportunity for all the moms to get together to discuss their homeschooling challenges and victories. There will be some seasoned home educators there to lead the discussions, answer questions, and offer encouragement. Please bring any homeschooling material that you would like to sell, trade, or give away. Activities, including a craft, will be available for the dads to keep the campers occupied so that the moms can relax and have a great time fellowshiping.

Ticks and Chiggers

This is a group event that pits one team against another in a fun series of games and activities. The activities will include all ages of children and are as fun for the adults to watch as they are for the participants. Expect team building, laughter, and friendly competition.

Campfire

There will be two campfires on Wednesday night. There is a Early Bird Campfire this year beginning at 8:30 by the basketball pavilion and then a Night Owl Campfire at 9:30 at the same location. Parents, please be mindful of young children around the fire. Everyone needs to wear enclosed shoes and carry a flashlight as you "mosey" to and from the bonfire. S'mores will not be provided, but you are welcome to bring your own.

Family Introductions

New families, after the Tuesday evening devotional, we will ask you to come forward to introduce your family to everyone officially
